The second annual Forest County Potawatomi (FCP) FILM Festival was held Thursday, Sept. 27, 2018, at the FCP Executive Building. FILM Coordinator David Herkert served as emcee for the event and warmly welcomed the 60+ people in attendance. He also encouraged the crowd to help themselves to popcorn and candy before the screenings got underway.

First up was the Mad Dog & Merrill Midwest Grill'n television episode filmed at Crandon International Off Road Raceway. Director of the film was Mariah Jacobson; Mercedes Houle was the producer. This particular episode – FILM's second – featured track President Cliff Flannery and FCP Chairman Ned Daniels Jr.

After the viewing, Herkert wished to express his thanks to all involved in the success of the FILM project. He especially wanted to thank his mom, wife and two children for their unwavering support, which he did in a most touching manner. Herkert and his family follow this philosophy: LOVE or living optimistically through visual expression. They do this with things such as hugs, drawing pictures together, taking photos... all the while making memories.

It is Herkert's hope that the youth see the power and the possibilities that creative expression provides in their own lives.

A montage of the students' works was shown followed by an introduction of the FILM students and presentation of workshop certificates to: Colleen Shepard, Elizabeth Soman, Cheyenne Pamonicut, Shania Pamonicut, Selena Alloway, Serena Alloway, Juanita Alloway, Mercedes Houle, Maria Brady, Mariah Jacobson. Workshops offered the past year included two fieldtrips: MIZIGI Communications in Minneapolis, a tour of WJFW Channel 12, and the hands-on production workshop for The Midwest Grill'n event.

"A filmmaker looks at their film like a painter looks at a painting. It's never really done until someone buys it and removes it from your easel."
-David Herkert

Other key workshops included topics such as photography, editing, posting videos/live streaming, direction/acting, show creation/production, scriptwriting, and telling a story about you. There were other sessions focused on working with the cameras, editors, lighting, sound, SFX and the details involved with each.

Special thanks and acknowledgments were given to those departments that had a part in FILM's success: Grants, Accounting, Education, Traveling Times, Family Services, AODA, Land & Natural Resources, IT and Executive Council.

Special thanks and acknowledgments were given to all workshop instructors and presenters: Matt Moore, Ryan Reynolds, Micah Nickey, Val Niehaus, Justin Guthier, Luke Schulta, Holly Daniels, Marcus Daniels, Antonio Daniels.

FILM Program Technical Assistant Service Specialist Jeffrey Keeble was up next to the podium. He admitted that he found the FILM students irritating at times, but was quick to express his all-encompassing affection for them and thanked them for their hard work. Keeble proceeded to introduce the next three films:

- On the FARM by Frank Shepard, mentored by Dave Herkert – This was an amazing film showcasing some of the special aspects of Bodwéwadmí Ktegan, the FCP Farm.

- Get the Scoop by Colleen Shepard, Mariah Jacobson, mentored by Jeffrey Keeble. This short but cute film featured a trip to Crandon's Eats & Treats for ice cream.

- Wellbriety Fire by Juanita Alloway, mentored by Antonio Daniels – This film featured an interview with Jorge Cisneros and his son, Jorge Jr. The discussion centered on the reason for the fire and the need for awareness and prevention of drug/alcohol addiction and abuse.

A special award was bestowed upon Juanita Alloway for being selected Most Improved FILM Student this year.

FCP Executive Council Makes Trip to Indian Community School

by Val Niehaus

Forest County Potawatomi (FCP) Executive Council made a special trip on September 27, 2018, to the Indian Community School (ICS) in Franklin, Wis. FCP Chairman Ned Daniels Jr., Treasurer Joe Daniels, and Secretary James Crawford were present along with Kaye Garcia, foundation director. The ICS board of education was of course present for this visit as well.

This trip was focused on the building process of the school as future capital projects are entertained in Forest County. It was a very impressive school and was definitely a worthwhile visit!

The mission statement for ICS is as follows: The ICS cultivates an enduring cultural identity and critical thinking by weaving indigenous teachings with a distinguished learning environment. The vision is the school imparts cultural identity and academic excellence which will light the path forward for the students to sustain its rich legacy.

Siobhan Marks, communications & marketing director of ICS, offered some very kind and positive comments about FCP Council making this trip down to visit the school. She said, "It was an honor to host FCP Executive Council and we wish to convey deep appreciation to Chairman Ned Daniels Jr. and all council members present."

She mentioned that this trip was a chance to renew the relationship between FCP and ICS and was a great opportunity to see and experience many of the cultural teachings tools that the students enjoy at this school. Council was able to meet with a lead project engineer, teachers and cultural artists. They were also able to witness students taking part in a student-led tobacco prayer, water ceremonies, language lessons and a traveling song. Council was able to tour the entire campus both inside and out and was more than impressed with what ICS had to offer its pupils.

One last thing Marks says, "We are so happy that we had the opportunity to welcome council to our school and cannot wait to be moving forward, working, talking and sharing with you all!"

The trip was a great opportunity to reignite communication between FCP and ICS and to look ahead toward possible future endeavors.

Breast Cancer: Five Facts You May Not Know

submitted by Andrew Krauss, ASPIRUS

WAUSAU, Wis. – Of all the diseases we face as women, few may concern us more than breast cancer. Almost certainly, you know someone - a loved one, a friend, a neighbor - whose life has been touched by the disease.

Even though breast cancer is far too common, some facts about it may still surprise you, says Dr. Cecilia Strode, a surgeon on staff at Aspirus Wausau Hospital. Here is a look at five of them:

1. The biggest risk factors for cancer are being female and advanced age. As you get older, your risk of breast cancer goes up. Most breast cancers are found in women age 55 and older. Less than five percent of breast cancers occur in women under 40, but breast cancer is the leading cause of cancer death in women ages 20-39.

2. Most breast cancer is not inherited; however, a family history does raise your risk. Only five to 10 percent of all breast cancers appear to develop directly from gene defects – such as those in the BRCA1 or BRCA2 gene – passed on from a parent. A woman with a first-degree relative (mother, sister, or daughter) has twice the risk as a woman without any family history. If she has more than one first-degree relative, she has three to four times the risk.

“While having a close relative with breast cancer does raise your risk, less than 15 percent of women who get breast cancer have a family history of the disease,” Nyman said.

3. A preventive mastectomy doesn't completely eliminate the risk of breast cancer. Some women who are at high risk for getting breast cancer opt to have both breasts removed to avoid the disease. A preventive mastectomy can, in fact, reduce the risk of developing breast cancer by 90 percent or more. But some risk still remains, since even a mastectomy can't remove all breast tissue.

4. Dense breasts are a risk. Women with dense breasts (those with more fibrous and glandular tissue and less fatty tissue) have up to twice the risk of breast cancer as a woman with average breast density. Dense breasts may also make mammograms less accurate.

Ask your doctor if your breasts are considered dense; you can't tell by touching them. If the answer is yes, the two of you can discuss whether you need additional imaging tests, such as an ultrasound or MRI.

5. Obesity plays a factor. Obesity after menopause will increase your risk of breast cancer, with significant increase for women who have gained more than 55 lbs since the age of 18.

Mini Carnival Held

by Val Niehaus

In celebration of Recovery Month, the Forest County Potawatomi (FCP) AODA department held a mini-carnival on Sept. 29, 2018, that was open to FCP community members and families. This was held in the parking lot across from the Stone Lake C-Store on a pretty blustery fall day.

The carnival had children's games for the kids as well as great information about recovery programs that are available right here at the FCP Health & Wellness Center. The main attraction for the young folks was a bouncy house that MANY children had a blast in with this always being a real "kid" pleaser. There was also a dunk tank, which on a 48-degree day was fun to watch but also a bit painful to witness and probably painful for the people who had to be dunked. It is likely that the observers enjoyed it more than the participants.

Another treat was Justine's frybread stand - always a delight to see at any event. She was there making her famous fry bread, fry burgers, fry dogs and all the fixings for people to eat throughout the afternoon. It really was nice to ask a community member who has her own stand to set up and provide for the people at an event such as this carnival. Some just came cruising in for the food to take back home, and it proved to be a great day for Justine!

Overall, the day went well even though the temperature was a bit cold. Despite the chill, everyone had a fun time talking with one another and enjoyed watching the kids. The children had a great time with the games and prizes. The youth and adults had the opportunity to learn a bit more about recovery and what is available for those dealing with that challenge right here at FCP Health and Wellness. It definitely was a successful event for all involved.

Jacob Struble, AODA, in dunk tank praying that little boy doesn't hit the bullseye with Jorge Cisneros, AODA, coaching him.

The duck game is always a favorite of many children.

confronts Historical Trauma head-on through interviews and discussions with young Native Americans whose lives are stricken by plights known to be effects of Historical Trauma. The film explores research professionals whose work helps develop a better understanding of trauma, how it relates to Native Americans specifically and provides insight into ways we can improve the outcomes of Native people dealing with these challenges. The individuals shown in the film come from a variety of social and economic backgrounds: a middle-school student living on the poverty-stricken Blackfeet Indian Reservation battling an addiction to meth, a hardened enforcer of the A.J.M. who has learned the importance of love late in life, and a successful author/professor teaching the Ojibwe language to university students.

Vehicle Safety Laws Myths vs. Facts

submitted by FCP Community Health

On average, 552 individuals die every year in vehicle accidents in the state of Wisconsin (WisDOT database, 2018). Forest County had two people die each year in car accidents from the years of 2013-17. Every year, thousands of children are killed or injured in car crashes. With the proper use of a car seat and knowledge of Wisconsin's traffic safety laws, it may keep many more individuals safe.

1. Myth or Fact: A one-year old child who weighs 25 pounds should be put in forward-facing car seat. Myth. According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, "All infants and toddlers should ride in a rear-facing seat as long as possible until they reach the highest weight or height allowed by their car safety seat manufacturer." With most car seats, they permit a child to ride in a rear-facing car seat for two or more years, dependent on their height and weight.

2. Myth or Fact: The Safety Responsibility Law applies to all operators and owners of vehicles who are involved in reportable crashes in the state of Wisconsin. Fact. The WisDOT DMV Facts from 2017 indicate, "The Safety Responsibility Law was enacted in 1945 to protect persons who suffer damages in crashes caused by uninsured motorists. The program provides an incentive for motorists to carry liability insurance or otherwise satisfy crash damages. The law imposes driver licensing and motor vehicle registration sanctions against uninsured motorists who do not pay for the damages they cause."

3. Myth or Fact: In the state of Wisconsin, only when the vehicles are damaged do you have to report it. Myth. Per Wisconsin Statute 346.70 (1), any crash within the State of Wisconsin must be reported when it results in the following: 1) Injury of a person, 2) $1,000 or more damage to any person's vehicle or property, and 3) Damage of $200 or more to state or other government-owned property other than a vehicle.

4. Myth or Fact: Texting while driving is against the law for ALL drivers in Wisconsin. Fact. According to Wisconsin State Legislature 346.89 (1), "No person while driving a motor vehicle may be engaged or occupied with an activity, other than driving the vehicle, that interferes or reasonably appears to interfere with the person's ability to drive the vehicle safely." This includes the following statement 346.89 (3) (a), "No person may drive, as defined in s. 343.305 (1) (b), any motor vehicle while composing or sending an electronic text message or an electronic mail message."

5. Myth or Fact: Kids under eight years old must be seated in federally-approved safety seats or boosters until they reach over 80 pounds in weight, or are taller than 4 feet 9 inches. Fact. According to Wisconsin State Legislature, 347.48 (4) (am), "No person may transport a child under the age of eight in a motor vehicle unless the child is restrained in compliance with par. (as) in a safety restraint system that is appropriate to the child's age and size and that meets the standards established by the department under this paragraph. The department shall, by rule, establish standards in compliance with applicable federal standards, including standards under 49 CFR 571.213, for child safety restraint systems."

Milwaukee Public Museum: A TRIBUTE TO SURVIVAL

This exhibit's centerpiece, titled "Indian Country," features a contemporary powwow grand entry scene with 37 life-sized figures dressed in colorful dance attire.

These figures are on an enormous turntable around singers at a drum and pass through areas of theatrical lighting accompanied by the sounds of American Indian music. Various aspects of contemporary American Indian life, reservation and urban, are shown in conjunction with the powwow.

The Indian Country powwow figures are based on life casts of Indian people representing Wisconsin's seven tribes. The local American Indian community has dedicated hundreds of hours to the fabrication of the powwow outfits and drum used in the exhibit.

Other segments present the history of American Indian and non-Indian relations. Subjects such as "The First
